CONTROL CERTIFICATION TRAINING COURSE

Cross-Connection Control and Backflow Prevention is designed for officials of cities and water utilities, operators and managers, building inspectors, representatives of the plumbing industry, county health sanitarians and individuals who inspect and repair backflow devices.

The 5-day course includes "hands-on" training in testing of backflow preventors with available testing equipment. Each participant will test and trouble-shoot problems using three testable devices.

The Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services exam will be used as a final written test. Upon successful completion of this course, each attendee's name will be submitted to the Department of Health, who will issue the Grade VI Certification, which is now required by NDHHS for testing and repairing of any testable backflow preventors.
